1) I now understand the confusion about SC and NC... NHC only draws the cone and track out 5 days (120h), so it's not that we didn't think it was going to SC/NC, but the track stops at day 5, and last Thursday, the storm was 7-8 days away from SC.

2) Interesting comment about surfing. I gave the standard rip current answer, but I thought about mentioning that I surf:

As always, thank you for the support. NOAA is fully ready to support as needed.
